

CALL FOR PAPERS

Fresno State students are encouraged to submit papers to:

The Philosophy Department's Annual Student Conference

VOICING IDEAS

Thursday, April 10th, 2025, 3:30 pm

Submission Guidelines:

Deadline: Thursday, February 27th, 2025

Maximum length: 3,000 words

Recommended Length: 1,500-3,000 words

Eligibility: Current Fresno State student

Topic: Any topic in philosophy, religious studies, or peace and non-violence studies. This may be a topic addressed in a term paper from a PHIL or PAX course, but you can also write a new paper for this event. If you do, we recommend that you get some input from one of your professors about it. If selected, you should be able to present your paper in 25 minutes.

Anonymous review: Mention your name and the professor, if any, who supervised or commented on your work in your email message only.

Please remove all identifying information [name and course info] from the paper, including from footnotes, the file name, and document properties [in WORD: File/Info/Inspect Document/Remove Document Properties and Personal Information].

Cover page: Please provide only the following information on your cover page:

- Paper Title
- Area [Philosophy/Religious Studies/PAX]
- Word Count

Submission: Electronic. Papers must be received by email by 11:59 PM on 2/27/2025.

Submit your paper to all three contacts below (expect an email confirmation).

Contacts: Dr. Mariana Anagnostopoulos: marianaa@mail.fresnostate.edu
Dr. Raja Rosenhagen: rosenhagen@mail.fresnostate.edu
Ruth Aparicio: rutha@mail.csufresno.edu

Acceptances will be announced on or before March 20, 2025.

Why do this? a) It's fun! b) It's a challenge and [thus] an opportunity for growth!
c) $200 worth of prizes will be distributed among presenters!
